- Agenda
  - Laws for Ballot Initiative Process
  - Ballot Initiative Timeline
  - Petition requirements
  - Signature gathering tips and process

Laws for Ballot Initiative Process (1/3)

Laws

- Counties follow the law as laid out in the CA Elections Code for county ballot measures (9100-9126)
  - This process parallel state ballot measure process
    - 180 days to collect signatures
    - No hard deadline for signature submission
  - Examples: Los Angeles, Orange, Contra Costa, Sonoma, SLO, all use this state law
    - Many counties provide handbooks on initiatives

Laws for Ballot Initiative Process (2/3)

Laws

- Municipal ballot measure laws vary city to city
  - General law cities follow Elections Code sections 9200-9295
    - This process is similar to that for counties
  - Charter cities like SF may have completely different rules
    - How they differ varies greatly
    - Many charter cities do defer to state law

Laws for Ballot Initiative Process (3/3)

- Counties and municipalities generally do not have hard deadlines for submitting signatures
  - SF is an exception
- Proponents must begin the process early enough to ensure that enough time for petitions to be verified
  - Initiatives must also be presented before the local legislature in most cases

Random Sample vs. Full Count

- Within 30 working days, the registrar will use a random sampling method to ascertain the number of valid signatures
- If the sample only finds that the validity rate is 95-110%, then a full count is required
- If a full count is required, they have an additional 60 working days to examine each signature
- Collecting enough raw signatures is essential to avoid a full count!

Grassroots Signature Gathering

Pros

- Invests and Strengthens local movements
- Builds capacity and leadership
- Higher validity rate
- Demonstrates local support

Cons

- Intensive oversight
- Less accountability = more risk
- Requires existing memberships & infrastructure

Strategy

Paid Signature Gathering

Strategy

Pros

- Turnkey operation
- Ensures signatures
- Accountable

Cons

- Expensive
- Lower validity rate
- Doesn't build local movement

Tips

Tips on Signature Collection (1/6)

- Volunteers should be familiar with what are the features of a petition
  - Its format
  - Lines required to be filled by voters
    - Printed name, signature, street address, and city)
  - Lines required to be filled by the petition gather

Tips on Signature Collection (2/6)

- Know what a good signature is for a higher validity rate
  - Legible handwriting
  - Registered at address given (No PO boxes!)
    - Correct jurisdiction
  - Cursive signature
  - Did not sign previously
  - Black ball point pen used
- Most invalid signatures are from the wrong address.

Tips on Signature Collection (3/6)

- Keep it simple, focus on getting the signature before talking about the measure
- Ask if they live here instead of if they are registered
- Hand the clipboard to the voter, don't hold it against your chest
  - Have a pen in the other hand
- Make sure they are registered at the address provided after you've engaged them.

Tips

Tips on Signature Collection (4/6)

- If necessary, pitch them once they've been handed the board.
- Have two or three boards
  - Foam boards with rubber bands are lighter
- Don't fill in info for voters afterwards
  - Could cause it to be struck
  - An incorrect or missing unit number does not invalidate a signature

Tips on Signature Collection (5/6)

Tips

- Know the difference between public and private property
  - Public = parks, sidewalks, outside of government buildings
  - Private = grocery store parking lots, businesses
- Gathering on private property is okay if it is a quasi public square (e.g. has benches)
  - Better to ask for forgiveness than permission as employees do not always know the law

Tips on Signature Collection (6/6)

- Trader Joe's tends to be more sensitive than other grocery stores
- Assert your rights, you won't be arrested
- Gather in the highest density city within the county
  - NIMBY cities are harder
- Events are good
- 99 cent stores and Walmarts are good
- Avoid tourist areas
- Going door-to-door with a walk list is also viable
